1932-1933 Tenino, WA. Wooden Depression Scrip (The First Wooden Currency)

The year is 1931 and the United States is in the throes of the Great Depression. The small thriving town of Tenino, in Thurston county of Washington with almost 1,000 people, has yet to feel the major effects of the economic crisis. But just 20 days before Christmas, on December 5th, the Great Depression came knocking on the door with the failing of the Citizens Bank of Tenino. There was no longer any currency available for the exchange of goods and services. In an attempt to keep the town solvent, the Chamber of Commerce received permission from Congress to begin printing their own money. You could sign a form to pledge your assets, and they would give you 25 percent of your deposits in the form of (scrip).

The printing was done by Don Major, the publisher of the Tenino Independent, with the newspaper's 1890 Chandler & Price printing press. At the time, Major just happened to be in possession of some Sitka spruce and sliced cedar wood that he purchased from a Grays Harbor-based traveling salesman some time earlier and hadn't yet used for anything. And with that, the Tenino wooden currency was born. From the first wood run in January 1932 to June of that same year, when the town finally became solvent again, Eight scrip issues were printed between 1932 and 1933 with a total of $10,308 of the wooden currency put into circulation — in denominations of 25 cents, 50 cents, and one dollar — of which only about $40 was ever redeemed.

After a few attempts with paper money, the Chamber of Commerce decided to make currency out of wood, which was readily available. A committee was formed that included the town's physician, Dr. Wichman, dentist Dr. Meyer, and Don Major, the publisher of the local newspaper. By the second printing, in 1932, the word had spread outside of Tenino. The negotiable scrip was made for use, but instead of it being used, it went out to collectors and to this day is a very high dollar value collector's item. Today people from all over the world collect Tenino's wooden money and it shows up in unusual places. A very rare piece of money, which is not even in the museum's collection.

1933 Blaine, WA. “Peace Arch Wooden Nickel” Depression Scrip (The First Real Wooden Nickel)

The wooden scrip from Blaine, Washington, was issued during the depression of 1933 by the Blaine Relief Association. This scrip came into existence in 1933 at the request of Albert Balch, then president of the Blaine Chamber of Commerce. Issued in denominations of 5¢, 10¢, 25¢, 50¢ and $1.00, it was backed by non-interest-bearing warrants and merchants’ notes. The warrants were issued as security for money, for redemption of wooden money only, and were redeemable in United States currency or gold. All the wooden scrip was redeemable at par for merchandise at any store in Blaine. It was also used in payment for labor on city improvement projects.

The issue was nationally publicized and requests were received from every state in the union. Many of the requests were offering above par for this money. The most saved denomination was the nickel. Out of a total amount of $1,900 issued, which included 8,850 wooden nickels, only $350 remained extant. All issued pieces of Blaine depression scrip are very scarce.

This wooden scrip was designed by Whipple Y. Chester, an artist on the Bellingham Herald. It was press-stamped from three-ply sheet wood at the Blaine Journal. All coins are 42mm. in diameter. The basic design is the same for all pieces, with denomination and text on the face, the Peace Arch at center, and the inscription around on the back. The amounts issued were:

5¢ – serial numbers 1 to 3,000; 10¢ – serial numbers 1 to 1,500 or more; 25¢ – serial numbers 1 to 1,000; 50¢ – serial numbers 1 to 500. Each issued scrip note was serially numbered by hand or stamp and initialed by one of the officers of the Blaine Relief Association. These officers were Earle L. McKinney (ELM); Reverend Floyd C. Green (FCG), Relief Association president and town treasurer; Albert Balch, Chamber of Commerce president; and Whipple Yale Chester, designer of the scrip.

1933 Chicago World’s Fair “Indian Head Wooden Nickel” (The First Commemorative Wooden Nickel)

This wooden nickel promoted the Century of Progress 1833-1933 theme of the Chicago World’s fair from May of 1933 until October, 1934.

1933 Hopkins' Wooden Nickel (The Second Real Wooden Nickel?)

In 1933 Nelson S. Hopkins of Williamsville, NY issued the Hopkins' Wooden Nickel. Designed of 1/16 in thick multi-ply wood about 1 ½ inches in diameter. There was no predefined redemption date and the Hopkins' issue could be found in black, brown, red, yellow and white print. Limited-Rare Collection Piece.
